Millionaires Pay a Disproportionately High Percentage of Income Taxes

Despite being one of the smallest demographic groups in America, filing only 0.28 percent of all tax returns, people earning over $1 million paid 28 percent of total income taxes in 2014.